BRUSHES

Aboveground art supplies offer a decent series of Winsor and Newton oil brushes.

There are many brands of brushes. You can find decent brushes in a range of 2 to 4 dollars apiece.

Watch you don't spend too much here!!

Stay away from the cheap "kits" they are nicely packaged but will fall apart the first time you use them round brushes..... sizes..... 2, 6, flat brushes..... sizes..... 4, 6, 8, 10

filbert brushes..... sizes..... 3, 5, 7, 9

I highly recommend buying an assortment of soft bristle (such as sable or synthetic variants) and course bristle (such as camel or synthetic variants). Different kinds of brushes do different kinds of things with the paint!

If you're used to using a Strippable palette (this is the kind that has multiple sheets you can tear off and throw away), by all means continue. Personally, I prefer using white, styrofoam plates and a roll of tin foil. They're super cheap and then you can easily cover and save a palette for multiple days.

Metal palette knife 2 or 3 inches

3 stretched and primed canvas or strainers (wood panels mounted onto backings). These should be no smaller than 24 x 30 inches and no larger than 48 x 60 inches.

Cotton rags (I find old t-shirts cut down into smaller squares works best)

Please buy odorless thinners
